

CINEMA STUDIES (UNDERGRADUATE CERTIFICATE)

Program Overview

The Cinema Studies Certificate is a 15-credit hour interdisciplinary program open to all CSU students. The certificate program introduces students to film theory and analysis, explores the history of film-making, and provides the critical skills and tools necessary to understand and articulate the influence of cinema in a global context. The award of the certificate means that the holder has completed the required courses and at least nine hours of elective courses earning a "C" or better in each course.
